My work: Quest for Student Success: A Cross-disciplinary Exploration of the Learning and Development Needs of Online Students in a Regional University

The quest for student success project seeks to identify the learning needs of online students across student cohort and discipline.

My digital toolbox

- OS: Windows
- Browser: Chrome
- Document Editing: Word
- Analysis tools: NVivo

My favourite tool/s: NVivo

NVivo is my favourite tool as it allows coding and analysis of the many different types of qualitative data I deal with.

I've got my eye/s on: Articulate

Articulate could be the answer for effective multi-device delivery of interactive accessible learning programs. The Research Support Team at USQ are currently investigating the use of this software to further develop our instructional resources.
