Dear Dr. Mills:

Jessica Green
please not

Following a process of double-blind peer review, I am pleased to advise that your manuscript entitled "Using the jazz metaphor to teach the strategy capstone course" has been accepted in the refereed stream for the 23rd Annual Australian and New Zealand Academy of Management Conference, subject to you addressing the MINOR REVISIONS recommended by the reviewers included at the foot of this letter.

Final paper submission date is FRIDAY 2 OCTOBER 2009.

To revise your manuscript, PLEASE FOLLOW THE STEPS BELOW:

1. Log into <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/anzam2009> and enter your Author Center, where you will find your manuscript title listed under "Manuscripts with Decisions."

Under "Actions," click on "Create a Revision." Your manuscript number has been appended to denote a revision.

2. You will NOT be able to make revisions on the originally submitted manuscript. Instead, revise your manuscript using a word processing program and save it to your computer.

When the revised manuscript is ready, upload it and resubmit it through your Author Center.

3. When submitting your revised manuscript, to assist with checking, please ensure you clearly document the changes made to the original manuscript.

4. Final papers for publication should include the title, all author details (affiliations, emails) the abstract and keywords, all within the word.doc.

5. The presenting author* must be indicated with an asterisk.

6. Final papers MUST CONFORM TO THE ANZAM AUTHOR GUIDELINES regarding paper length, layout and spacing. It is important that you edit your paper as necessary, as all final papers will be CHECKED FOR CONSISTENCY.

7. The author must also ensure the paper is complete, grammatically correct and without spelling or typographical errors.

8. IMPORTANT: Your original files will be available to view when you upload your revised manuscript. To avoid any confusion, please DELETE all redundant files before completing the resubmission.

9. The paper title and abstract will be downloaded from within the system. Therefore any edits to your paper title and abstract must also be made in the online version. The full paper will be published in the conference proceedings.

About ANZAM

ANZAM is the primary professional body for management educators, researchers and practitioners in Australia and New Zealand, with about 600 individual members and 50 institutional members (representing most Australian and New Zealand universities) as well as members from other countries.

ANZAM's Purpose

The Australian and New Zealand Academy of Management (ANZAM) advances management education, scholarship, research and practice.

ANZAM's Intent

- To facilitate the consideration and dissemination of management knowledge;
- To provide a range of services for the ongoing development of members;
- To provide an authoritative voice to advance the interests of the management discipline; and
- To promote greater collaboration between stakeholders.

Sustainable Management & Marketing

2-4 December 2009 - Melbourne, Australia

Executive coaching has become a multimillion dollar industry, but is not without challenges:

- Many coaches experience greater drop-out rates than they expect or would like to.
- Most organisations still struggle to determine the value for money (VfM) they receive from the coaching services that they procure.

Would you like to:

- Improve your client retention rates?
- Assess the coaching effectiveness in your organisation?
- Predict coaching outcomes?
- Contribute to, and critique, a new coaching model

If you answer is 'yes' to any of these questions, this workshop is for you

The Impact of the Psychological Contract in Executive Coaching

Friday 4 December @ 10:30am

Crown Promenade Hotel, Southbank - Melbourne, Victoria

Are you a Professional Coach?

- Do you find some of your clients dropping out of coaching?
 - Would you like to use a coaching model that will enable you to engage on a deeper level with your clients?
- ✓ This workshop introduces a unique relational model of effective coaching, which facilitates deeper and more effective coaching relationships, and predicts coaching performance outcomes.

Are you an HR Manager, or responsible for procuring coaching services in your organisation, and would like to:

- Improve your monitoring of the quality of coaching delivery?
- Assess the coaching effectiveness of your providers?
- Ascertain the value and impact that coaching is providing to your organisation?
- Predict coaching performance outcomes?

✓ This workshop presents a survey based on a predictive model of coaching that will

Are you an Academic that likes to:

- Critique new models and theoretical frameworks?
- Contribute to other researchers by providing useful feedback and ideas?

✓ This workshop presents a new relational coaching model underpinned by the psychological contract.

This is a workshop for professional coaches, academics and organisations using coaching services and wishing to evaluate their effectiveness and VfM.

The Impact of the Psychological Contract in Executive Coaching

This workshop presents a new relationship model of coaching effectiveness that draws on empirical research dealing with the psychological contract (PC). The model is potentially predictive in nature and includes a survey instrument designed to diagnose and predict coaching effectiveness, as well as client intentions to complete the coaching process.

This model addresses criticisms in the coaching literature that insufficient attention is paid to: the coaching contract, research on client retention, the causes of premature client termination of coaching, and determining coaching effectiveness.

Purpose

- To present and welcome expert feedback on a new model of coaching effectiveness

Content

- Context - contract making in coaching
- The PC and its various applications
- The contract makers
- The coach as a contract maker and shaper
- The psychological contract and the coaching process
- The psychological contract coaching (PCC) model
- Practical implications
- Limitations, future research agenda and propositions

Recommended audience

Professional coaches, academics, HR professionals, consultants.

Methodology/Approach

This workshop is highly interactive, experiential and designed according to adult learning principles. Hence, participants will be encouraged to contribute by drawing on their own coaching and/or research experience.

Resources and benefits

Participants will receive handouts (PPT notes) related to the materials presented in the workshop, and a copy of the article "The Impact of the Psychological Contract in Coaching" by Sebastian Salicru.

Presenters

Sebastian Salicru (business psychologist), Director, PTS P/L, and PhD candidate (Curtin).

Colin Beames (corporate psychologist), Director, WRDI Institute.

Fees and registration

The fee for this workshop is covered by the fee for the ANZAM conference (anyone paying for the Conference can attend the workshop without further charge).
