ACEN 2011 Scholarship

The ACEN Scholarship aims to support students who face economic hardship in undertaking a work integrated learning/internship placement. In 2011 the ACEN Scholarship will award three $1000 scholarships. Applications will be opening soon. Further information and scholarship guidelines will be available on the ACEN website after the conference. (www.acen.edu.au)

Message from the Chair Conference Program Committee

The Australian Collaborative Education Network (ACEN) 2010 National Conference, held at Curtin University, in Perth, Western Australia, promises to be a great success. With in excess of 115 delegates and papers the program offers a wonderful cross-section of research in the area of work-integrated-learning (WIL) in its many forms.

The official program commences on Wednesday 29th September, 2010, with a range of symposia, papers and vignettes being presented. The presentations are spread across five parallel sessions across the three days of the conference. In total we have 121 presentations, which indicates a very full and comprehensive program.

In addition to the paper presentations the program is supported through the keynote addresses of Professor Mantz Yorke, Ms Mary Hicks and Mr Peter Tyree. Professor Yorke will also be hosting a Keynote Workshop following his presentation on Wednesday morning for those interested in engaging with his ideas further. Further to these the program also contains three panel discussions with focus on emergent topics in WIL.

The conference program contains 54 full-refereed papers. This represents an acceptance rate of 80% of submitted papers for review.

To ensure the smooth running of the program presenters are encouraged to have their presentations already loaded and ready to go in each of the rooms they are to be presenting in. Adherence to the schedule is critically important for such a full program, with presenters and delegates needing to be punctual to the presentations and not exceeding their allotted time.

All in all, it is expected that this conference will provide a comprehensive review of current practice and research in the area of WIL in Australia and that growing from this experience will be greater collaboration moving forward to an interesting future in this area. I would like to express my gratitude to all presenters and delegates for the contribution you will make to this conference and hope that you receive the full benefit of being able to engage in such a diverse and interesting array of ideas.

Keynote Speakers

Mantz Yorke

Mantz Yorkes’ early career was in teaching and teacher education, after which he turned to staff development and educational research at Manchester Polytechnic. He then spent six years as a senior manager at Liverpool Polytechnic followed by two years on secondment as Director of Quality Enhancement at the Higher Education Quality Council. He returned to his institution in 1994, continuing as Professor of Higher Education. Following retirement in 2005, he is Visiting Professor in the Department of Educational Research, Lancaster University.

He has worked on various projects related to graduate employability, the most significant of which involved membership of the Enhancing Student Employability Co-ordination Team [ESECT] whose activities spanned higher education in England (and spread further afield).

This work led to his general editorship of the Learning and Employability series of publications by the Higher Education Academy.

In addition to working on employability, he has researched, presented and published on various aspects of higher education, including the first year experience, retention and assessment.

Mary Hicks

Ms Mary Hicks is the Director of Employment, Education and Training for the Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (ACCI). In this position Ms Hicks plays a catalytic role in consulting with ACCI business and industry member organisations to develop employment, education and training policy and in representing ACCI views with stakeholders. She provides leadership and support to ACCI member organisations in this process.

Previously Ms Hicks was a senior secondary school teacher and has also worked in Government and business. Ms Hicks has extensive community experience including work with the Alliance Francaise. She was awarded the National Order of Merit by the President of France for her services to the study of French in 2005.

Ms Hicks has a well-rounded background and an extensive knowledge of the needs of business and industry. She is committed to and passionate about achieving quality outcomes in employment, education and training for the benefit of the Australian community.
She is the Deputy Chair of the National Quality Council of the Ministerial Council for tertiary Education and Employment, a member of the Australia Pacific Technical College Advisory Group, the Skilled Migration Consultative Panel, Mature Aged Consultative Forum, Green Skills Forum and on the Board of World Skills Australia.

Peter Tyree

Peter is the former Chairman of the Tyree Group of Companies, one of the largest non public companies in Australia. As an Electrical Engineer he has attained a diverse knowledge in the areas of energy, waste water treatment facilities, and electrical conductors. Peter’s “give to society” attitude has seen him work in charitable and industry bodies as well as keeping long term relationships with several universities.

In his relationships with universities, his involvement has been as a member of a number of “visiting” Committees, School and Faculty Advisory Boards and Foundations, particularly the University of Wollongong, University of Sydney and the University of NSW, each of which has given Peter deep insights into how important the Business/Higher Education relationships are. Peter took on the role of President, Business/Higher Education Round Table in February 2010.
